Public Health Genetics Week
is next week!

May 23-27, 2022

#PHGW

#PublicHealthGenetics

The goal of this week is to raise awareness of genetics and genetic information and to celebrate all those involved in the field, including family and patient advocates, genetics professionals, students, and nonprofits, among others. Learn more about upcoming programming for Public Health Genetics Week, sponsored by the NCC!

Visit The PHGW website

Each day of Public Health Genetics Week will have a different theme:

- "What is Public Health Genetics?" May 23
- "Who is Involved in Public Health Genetics?" May 24
- "What are Public Health Genetics Programs?" May 25
- "Public Health Screening" May 26
- "Public Health Genetics Resources" May 27
